Joint European Master in

COMPARATIVE LOCAL DEVELOPMENT (CoDe)

Call for Applications
EDITION 2013-15

Master CoDe aims at providing the necessary knowledge and skills for introducing, supporting and co-ordinating processes of change and transformation at local level.

The post-graduate Master's course degree is accredited by the European Consortium for Accreditation (ECA). The programme is also accredited by the national accreditation bodies of the Hungarian Accreditation Committee (HAC, for the Corvinus University of Budapest), coordinator of CoDe accreditation; the German Accreditation Council (GAC, for the University of Regensburg), and the Council for Higher Education of the Republic of Slovenia (CHE, for the University of Ljubljana).

The programme enjoys also the collaboration of the University of Belgrade (Serbia), University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill (USA), the Tshwane University of Technology (South Africa) and the Russian State Social University (RSSU).

Successful students will be awarded with a Joint Master's Degree in Comparative Local Development accredited in four European countries:
